

Professional Licensure Information Policy & Disclosures

Reason for Policy:

This policy is required to assure compliance with the U.S. Code of Federal Regulations, 34 CFR § 668.43 as amended, particularly paragraph (c), Institutional Information – Individual Disclosures for all programs leading to professional licensure or certification to prospective students if the institution makes a determination that the program does not meet State educational requirements or the institution has not made a determination where the student is located before enrolling in the program (before a financial transaction occurs.) The institution must provide an individual disclosure to enrolled students if the institution determines that the curriculum no longer meets educational requirements where the student is located; the disclosure must occur within 14 days of the institution making that determination. Further, the federal regulations require that each institution has a policy that defines student location for purposes of complying with the disclosure requirements.

Lansdale School of Business offers several programs leading to professional licensure within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Our programs are designed to prepare the student to take state licensure exams in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania requires Practical Nursing, and Massage Therapy graduates to take and pass state licensure exams before they can obtain a license. Lansdale School of Business has not made a determination if our program curriculum meets the eligibility requirements in order to obtain licensure or certification in any other state. States vary in what professions they require to be licensed and how licensure functions. Some states require an individual to graduate from an approved program. Others require an individual to “meet [the] certification requirements of a national organization”. A specific amount of training can also be required as well as passage of an exam based on a state requisite exam score. Often, licensed professionals must complete continuing education on an annual basis.
